H = Hania, M = manager

M: Right. Have a seat, Hania

H: Thanks.

M: I've looked at your CV and see that you're from Poland. How long have you been in England?

H: I worked here last year to improve my English and then I came back to study fashion this year.

M: I see. So why do you want this job?

H: I have some spare time in the evenings after college and I'd like to earn some extra money.

M: OK. And last year you worked in another restaurant. What did you like about your last job?

H: Helping the customers and trying to give good service.

M: How did you deal with any difficult situations?

H: At the weekends we were very busy in the evenings so sometimes customers had to wait for their food. But I found that most customers are OK if you are friendly and polite. Also you need to apologize when the food is late.

M: Good. Well, I think that's everything. Do you have any questions for me?

H: Yes, it says in the advert you provide training. Can you give me more information about that?

M: Well you have lots of experience, so you probably won't need very much. But on your first day, you work with another waiter and learn about the menu and the different kinds of pizza ...

Part 3: Follow-up questions

Each student will be asked 2 questions related to their conversation in Part 2.

Student A: Hello, B and thank you for coming. Today we are going to discuss the zoo. The problem is that the zoo will close because there is not enough money to run it.

Student A: We could sell/ How about selling souvenirs to visitors to earn more money.

Student B: I think that won't work because many people prefer buying souvenirs elsewhere.

Student A: That's a good idea. I guess companies will support this plan because they can advertise their own companies on the sign.

Student B: Why don't we ask companies to sponsor different animals at the zoo and their companies' names will be on a sign near the animal.

Student B: So we have agreed on this. Now I will list the names of some company bosses and contact them.
