

One of my favourite website is a presentation editing app called www.canva.com .This is a great website make your presentation come to life.

In my opinion, the good point of the site is useful and easy to use. This application allows users to edit presentation content with a lot of beautiful and vivid effects. Users are free to choose their favorite topics to include in their presentations.

However, when you want to use more beautiful effects, users have to pay to be able to use all the effects. This is also something that I am not really satisfied with in this application.

On the whole, this is a good site for guys. I think about that If you need to use effects to beautify your presentation, try using this app. I believe it will be of great help to your presentation.
